

Elegance in every inch

Although it is clear that the great day, meeting the eyes of all are aimed at the bride, he should be presented as elegantly. When we have to find a suitable dress for the groom, we often find that the seemingly simple choice of shirt may offer some difficulty.

Is not available in the market range is very wide, and the future bridegroom, especially one that on a daily basis prefer the light and freedom, is not necessarily attuned to the latest trends and principles bon tone. Therefore, especially for you is a few tips that will make it easier to search for the perfect shirt.

Choice of collar to dress the groom

On the market are shirts with many but in most cases, three of them. The final choice should be a reflection of clothes, which Mr. Young plans to set up on wedding day. The suit carries the most traditional and most universal flange type KENT, whose wings form a sharp angle. It is the advantage that matches the profiles of each and is suitable for any occasion. In contrast, a more elegant and sophisticated is wide, the flange Italian, known as Hai, which also is used in conjunction with the suit. Perfectly suited for such an important ceremony, which is marriage, and it looks great together with a wide silk tie or plastron. Another style is very formal and usually worn in conjunction with much. Speech on the broken flange, which appears to be in the dress shirt, tie and overcoat. The dress shirt to wear with rigid chest, as CUFFS and facing stiff collar with horns, which complements the white fly. There are also a very elegant shirts without rigid complied with metallic gold-colored buttons in the measure. The tie with the assumption of semi-rigid chest shirt, double CUFFS and broken collar. Shirt must be white, smooth or - according to the latest trends - frilly, and it is necessary for example, black or crimson much. Shirt may be fastened to the metal i small black buttons at the center or indoor, the so-called. French, are also fastened to TIEPINS. In this great set will be presented to the bridegroom fluffy. The right size Every bride wants to be in this great Day looks really elegant and feel at ease. Therefore, when choosing a shirt should be borne in mind a few "technical" aspects. The shirt collar should be perfectly matched. It may not be too loose, much less for parochial, as his make the groom during the wedding night, instead Honeymoon is thought only about button at the neck. And this is not the best idea, because the spread in conjunction with the shirt looks like a tie. Therefore, you may know that the shirt collar and the neck should fit finger pointing. Equally important is that the shirt was well adapted to the growth and profile. Should not be invoked as a broad and association with a tent or a parachute, it can not be too short. Important that the ends have to admit freely in the bottom. Slightly raised Complement the elegant image of the groom be slightly out of sliding sleeve jackets. Shirt size should be chosen so that about 1 cm. In contrast, double worn fastened to the tie on TIEPINS may protrude a bit more. It should be stressed that the bridegroom, who wants to go down as elegant, and in any case should not assume jacket under a shirt with short sleeves. If the marriage takes place in the summer, the only solution is a photo jackets and long sleeves. In the hot days are useful Vented shirt with pure cotton or linen with a small addition of plastics. Color and pattern A few years ago to the wedding shirt - like the dress of Miss Young - had to be white. But with the departure from the stereotype of a white shirt princess appeared in pastel shades such as beige, blue, pink, and very trendy recently Ecu. A wide range of colors gives you the perfect shirt to match bridal colors and highlights the unique harmony. Most appropriate for your wedding day will be a plain shirt of course, Gentlemen may attempt a delicate paper, stripes or striations. And finally ... Appendices Groom outfit complete accessories, which are widely mentioned in the previous issue of "The Wedding Store". The most important and most to accent the eyes is, of course, a tie that together with the shirts and decide on the final full adaptation to the circumstances, that is the wedding. It should be a few tones darker than the shirt, chosen on the basis of contrast animates outfit. The smooth-shirt can be worn a tie in the sloping lanes, repeated geometrical figures or other more designs. Patterned shirt worth and "reassure" plain tie. A properly tied tie goes to the upper edge of the bar and can not project from the navy. It may from shirt, it should not be too hard to lock. Added to dress the groom is also a pair of cufflinks. They should be color matched to the other clothing items - such as tie. They can also be decorated with precious stones.
