

Wedding in the open air

It's a very romantic idea and the ceremony will surely be made in memory of both the young and the guests. However, it should be so scheduled events for a slightly different approach than a traditional wedding, as you must include additional elements not found in traditional wedding.

Here, the biggest opponent or ally may be the weather, but it is a little predictable climatic conditions. We know that such a wedding planning at a time when it is warm, so it should be ensured that guests were not at the tables. Essential element will be a roof, a sort of garden sheds and tents, because no one likes when like an oven on the head with such an opportunity. Roof should not have walls or sides, to ensure the draft. If the forecasts predict a great heat, it is worth to provide fans, connected in a secure manner, without the cables. It will also be large stocks of ice for drinks, or the conditions to their current cooling. Worse, if announced is slightly cooler weather and rain Showers. On the invitations score worth warned of an acceptance, then each provides the appropriate clothing. We can also take care or quickly mounted to the wall of the roofs, which shield against wind and rain possible, and in the number of warm draft blowers may also be useful. In contrast, the situation will be comfortable renting such premises, which, if necessary, will be the emergency room, where a further move of the wedding. Place for dancing should also be covered, including for the protection of equipment or playing instruments. This should be on the platform, since dancing in the grass, even in the solar weather will result in the destruction of soiled clothing and guests. Since the duration of each wedding is to be calculated on the entire night, it should be made for lighting, both in spot and dances at the tables, and lamps in addition to useful deterrent insects, particularly gnats, humors guests sensitive to mosquito. Also the sound system must be adapted to outdoor conditions, so be warned of this team or the DJ ordered. If the adoption does not take place at premises that provide toilets, for example, in a home garden, it might consider hiring the type of toilet Toi-Toi because they are at home may not be enough for more people. Also, be sure that the design did not include any place of the elements that may take off with a blast of wind. Everything has to be stable and well-connected to was not damaged and has caused no harm to anyone guests.
