

Wedding in times of crisis

The wedding was a few months and everything had always planned. However, it appears that in the way of your plans can stand the economic crisis and the need any expenditure. What if the big wedding is your dream and do not want it with? You sure are a few ways in which manage to save some money.

Dress

The Young Lady dress suit and the groom can be borrowed - to reduce their cost by at least a few hundred gold. However, if you want to have your clothes made especially for you, you can buy them in the living room where he is able to resell after the wedding dress - thanks to the recovery of invested cash. A good idea is also dresses - except it cheaper, it is certainly more original and unique than the model with a living room. When you buy a suit for the groom, we have the possibility of saving a little less. In choosing him therefore the principle that the purchase is worth it for a long time, ie that it can be elegant dresses for work or to another family feast.

Music

Well chosen is the foundation of a successful play. This can provide the whole team, but also a DJ, who will surely be a little cheaper. However, if you really want to save, you can simply a joy to record time against a set of greatest hits CDs and your favorite songs. Well in advance, however, make sure that the site where the wedding is to organize the equipment and sound system, and that the score will be someone who will be happy to arrange at least changes in the CD player.

Decorations

Well have decorating the church hall and a professional company. However, if you want to save a little, you can successfully do it alone. Buy flowers on a stock exchange, and assistance in the implementation of decorations ask friends. With a little manual ability, aesthetic sense and good will can conjure up a really great scenery.

Transport

If you like to go to the wedding a unique vehicle, does not have to rent a special car. Maybe someone from your family or friends have a car - luxury, antique, luxury or extravagant - and you agree to rent it for a few hours?

Discounts

Many companies offer attractive discounts for newlyweds. Often it can be obtained by visiting trade fairs such as weddings. You can also use the services of the company wedding planner- it has regular contact with various subcontractors, who are more willing to give discounts cooperating client companies than any other pair. The wedding ceremony is unusual that it deserves to be celebrated in a special way. Weddings are the elements on which you can not save, such as the food: it must be under enough and must be of good quality. It should be remembered that the day after the wedding day it is - the first day of a new chapter in life. Not you want to spend all the savings "for the rules." It is a wonder to look for cheaper, and "equivalents" of some weddings, which are as good quality, but does not make that your balance will be spent with you dream eyelids.
