

Wedding with elegance

Adoption provides the opportunity to Wedding insights chic beauty and creation, not only for the young virgin. All ladies invited force on that date rules reflecting the elegance of respect for the newlyweds.

Costumes in line with current fashion trends should, above all, emphasize the advantages and beauty of their shapes owners. Precious silk, lace, trim skirts, heels sky, precious necklaces, long strings of beads, earrings and even quirky ball bags for this occasion will be the best friends of each woman.

Heroine of the evening However, it is one the most important principle, which must not be forgotten: the main character is the adoption of the bride wedding garment, and any attempt its clothes are not on the spot. Therefore, better to avoid the release of the white "total look", excessive theatricality. Another "dangerous" color is black, which in our culture is a symbol of mourning. For this reason it is not recommended for mothers newlyweds as well . Other guests can afford to have this color, but under the condition that it gives life a lighter touch, such as gold supplements. Timeless, always is a very elegant combination of black with white. Strong colors such as red can be used preferably in combination with simple. So "better more than less." This rule also applies to fabrics such as lace and taffeta. First, do not connect them with each other. Secondly, of the matter avoid the abundance of wealth and jewelry. Otherwise, you get the effect. All applications, stones, shiny trimmings most beautiful present themselves, when used in moderation. The right balance - Remember to keep the balance between the richness of costumes and jewelry. There is no greater crime against the elegance and richness of exaggerated ornaments. So either a simple, chic and extravagant dress or accessories brave, sophisticated styling, but the color of caution. Combining the risk of creating large numbers of one color, as well as the use of patterned fabrics. Minor is often associated with rather. In turn, large and aggressive - if not skillfully selected - dominate over form, figure and are therefore not suitable for each figure. And feel a huge distance to each other party requires the contrasts of form, color, mixing different styles. The simplest dress (provided that it is with good fabric and it is great), you can replace the creation evening, for example her hips on a long silk shawl, or compiling from eye-catching extras. Just that simple, black, classic trousers, which carry on a daily basis, we combine the original, elegant corset is a brilliant effect. If you do not feel safe on the ground, it is better not to risk it if you did not break the adoption of the wedding garment. The only safe way is to stick to the golden rule of elegance, which is expressed in the noble simplicity of form, the highest quality materials and excellent cut which highlights the figure. At the end of a practical consideration. Planning the wedding for the adoption of creation must not be forgotten that the most we will have to appear in a well in the church during the wedding ceremony. If you decided on a model of discovering strong back, shoulders or décolletage, you must remember a - not only because of the customs, but also to protect itself against cold. Well-suited to check the rest of coat dress, jacket or scarf.
